

Discerning a Call

- Are you on a personal spiritual journey?
- Are you committed to a faithful prayer life?
- Are you willing to share your personal faith experience?
- Do people seem drawn to you for a discussion of spiritual questions?
- Do you seek a strong foundation from which to refine your skills to respond to God's call?
- Is God calling you to companion others on their spiritual journeys?
- Do you have a spiritual director?

Program Description

Spiritual Direction is an ancient form of strengthening and encouraging one another in our personal relationship with Jesus Christ. Spiritual Direction seeks to attend to God's activity in the lives of both director and directee.

The Nebraska Synod of the ELCA seeks to respond to an increasing request for spiritual direction and spiritual retreats by preparing those who are experiencing a call from God for this ministry.

While we recognize and honor spiritual beliefs and practices of other faith traditions, this is a Christian program.

Program Requirements

The Nebraska Synod offers a two-year program of development for people sensing a call to be spiritual directors for others who are seeking to deepen their spiritual lives and personal relationship with Christ.

Participants will meet in regularly scheduled residencies, study materials to deepen their understanding of the practices and principles of spiritual direction, and develop skills in both listening and speaking to others about matters of spiritual development.

Participation in every residency is essential for the successful completion and certification for this program.
